

Treasure the opportunity to study

Good morning, teachers and students,

DO SOMETHING
Today
THAT YOUR Future
SELF WILL THANK YOU FOR

How are you doing these days? During this year, quite a number of sad news stories were received from my friends. Unfortunately, bad news took place locally and globally. These hard experiences remind me how delicate and fragile we human beings are. In spite of all the uncertainties faced by us, we are very much blessed in a way that we can still have an opportunity to learn with one another safely in our school. Therefore, treasure the precious opportunity to study here. Studying hard is not only for helping us build a better life, but is also for enabling us to develop ourselves to be better educated and civilized. With the privileges of being knowledgeable, having a logical mind and a kind heart, we can do something more for our society and the world.

Sometimes, being a student can be tough. Our F6 students have to face lots of challenges! As we know, you may be very tired from preparing for the HKDSE, attending supplementary lessons and practicing the past HKDSE papers during classes or after school. You may even lack self-motivation at times. However, don't focus on what you can't do at the moment; take a look at what you are capable of. Teachers of YLSC will always stand by you. Do tell us your difficulties as there are always feasible ways to deal with them!

Every single one of you has something you're good at. No one's born being good at all things. Success comes with hard work. The story of Yao Ling Sun College is not about people who quit when the situation gets unpleasant. It's about people who keep going and try hard to do their best. We teachers will always accompany all of you to face different difficulties and circumstances.

Thank you!

Principal Leong